Question applies to Landmarks Preservation Commission

Why are you interested in serving on the Landmarks Preservation Commission?

From a young age, I knew I wanted to be an architect. As a South Florida native, I grew up admiring the work of Addison Mizner and my interest in drawing, designing, and traveling to see great buildings sparked my interest in architecture. I graduated first in my class and summa cum laude from the University of Miami School of Architecture where I focused mainly on traditional architecture. During my college years I was twice awarded a Scholarship for Historic Preservation by The Villagers, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the restoration and preservation of historic sites in Miami-Dade County. My studies have taken me to various places around the world with extended periods in Italy (Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, Assisi and other cities), admiring and learning from great architectural past. For over decade I have worked as an architect in the Town of Palm Beach and the surrounding areas. During that time, I have worked on and presented many Landmarked and Historically Significant Homes before the Town of Palm Beach Landmark Preservation Commission as well as West Palm Beach's Historic Preservation Board. Being very familiar with the Town's codes and ordinances, I can bring additional perspective to the projects under review. I also have an MBA from New York University, Leonard N. Stern School of Business with a specialization in Real Estate among other topics. I love seeing the beauty and historic character of Palm Beach both evolving and being preserved. This is my third time applying for the non-resident architectural expert seat and with my knowledge of the LPC and with great admiration for its work, I would be honored to continuing its mission to safeguard the Town's historic structures and districts.

Question applies to Landmarks Preservation Commission

If you have not lived in or owned a landmarked property, do you have any experience in dealing with landmarked properties? Please explain.

As mentioned above, for over a decade I have worked as an architect in the Town of Palm Beach and the surrounding areas. During that time, I have worked on and presented many Landmarked and Historically Significant Homes before the Town of Palm Beach Landmark Preservation Commission as well as West Palm Beach's Historic Preservation Board. I have included samples of my work accessible from a link and/or QR code on my resume for your review. Being well-versed in architectural history and design, as well as the Design Review Process of the Town, I understand the procedures of Landmarks and its vital importance to our community. I am quite familiar with the members of the Town's Building and Zoning Department, along with codes and ordinances. With my qualifications (and love for Palm Beach and its architecture) I believe I would be an experienced candidate for the non-resident architectural expert seat.

LANDMARKS PRESERVATION COMMISSION

(LPC) - The LPC safeguards the Town's historic and cultural resources through its landmarked structures and historic districts. This State of Florida Certified Commission reviews and approves structural and landscape modifications to Designated structures and properties. The LPC is comprised of seven regular and three alternate members, who are registered voters of the Town of Palm Beach and appointed by the Town Council, and who have, to the highest extent practicable, a special knowledge of and a known interest in landmarks preservation. One commissioner may be a non-resident of the Town who possesses specific knowledge or skills directly related to the preservation of historic structures or property. At least two members, but not more than three members, shall be registered architects in the State of Florida. In the event that there are, in the discretion of the Town Council, no bona fide applicants who are registered architects in the State of Florida, the Town may solicit and appoint architects registered outside the State of Florida to fill one of the architect seats. Members are appointed for three-year terms and no member may serve more than two consecutive terms, although a member may be eligible for reappointment upon the lapse of nine months after the expiration of the member's second consecutive three-year term. Although an alternate member may not serve more than two three-year terms as an alternate, an alternate member may be appointed to serve as a regular member of the commission and, in the event of such appointment, shall be entitled to serve two full three-year terms thereafter.
